We will open again, and come back stronger than ever.

Congratulations to Willem Hoegen, our only graduate this year. Willem has been an active member of our parish, altar serving, teaching Sunday School and setting a wonderful example to our young people. Willem will attend UMD in the fall. Our congratulations and prayers to Willem.

As we transition back to in person Masses, all hymnals and worship aids have been removed from the church. For those who like to follow along with the worship aid, you can find it in the myParish app. You are encouraged to use your smart phone or tablet during Mass if you would like to follow along.

All parishioners and friends of our parish

Our new parish church building project is still moving forward. The building committee had a meeting this week to review the revised building prints and make necessary changes. The architect will now the revisions and the prints forwarded to Father Andrew and Bishop Powers for their approval. After we receive the approvals, we will schedule a time in the parish hall for parishioners to view the prints and ask questions. We are currently looking at a late August or early September for a start date of construction.

To date, we have received $530,00 in pledges and have received payments on the pledges of $334,000. For those who have still not made a pledge, we ask that you seriously consider it. If you need a pledge form, contact Sue and she will mail the form. If you have any further questions concerning making a pledge, please contact Greg Amys at 218-340-4683

WEEKLY MEDITATION

One God...Three Persons.

That's the Trinity, and when you get right down to it, this central mystery of the Christian faith is just that – mystery. I have heard and used many images as illustrations to aid in understanding the Trinity:

- Shamrock – one leaf, three petals
- Water – one substance, three states (solid, liquid, gas)
- Numbers – one meaning, many languages (five, cinque, etc...)

These examples (and many like them) try to get at the notion of how something can be the same and different at the same time. How unity and diversity can be present at the same time; how the individual and the communal are manifested simultaneously.

It's a mystery.

And at the heart of the mystery we have a communion of Persons: the Father, the Son, and the Holy Spirit – a revelation that God comes to us in communion and invites us to be communion with others. We are not alone! God (in communion) invites us into this communion to create communion with one another.

Where do we find communion in our lives? Some obvious places:

- Home & Family
- Work
- School
- Neighborhood

You get the idea. Wherever two or more are present, the opportunity for communion is possible. The point: How strong is the communion we have with God and one another? How united are we in faith, hope, and love?

May we reflect on the current state of our relationships today and renew them, allowing the grace of God – Father, Son, and Holy Spirit – to bless the communion we have with those around us.

Fr. Andrew

Question for Children: When people love each other, how do they treat each other?

Question for Youth: The Trinity is celebrated today. How would you describe your relationship with God the Father? With Jesus? With the Spirit?

Question for Adults: If you were to encourage the members of your own parish to live as a “community of love,” which is how we define the Trinity, how would you advise them to live? Use St. Paul’s list of exhortations as your starting point.
